With forty years under our belt and a strong and sizeable team of accountants, advisers and specialists, there really is very little to do with financial management that we haven't done before and that wealth of knowledge and experience which has been built up is yours to exploit.

Your contribution is invaluable.
We particularly appreciate your attentiveness.

Worthy Promises

When it comes to bean counting and form filling, our team is efficient, thorough and committed. Our clients learn of ways to save money; they are free from the hassle of financial compliance, and their tax bills are reduced. We really come into our own working as closely as possible alongside you to use financial planning to not only run a tight ship but to understand, interrogate and be in control.

Burton Sweet's clients are businesses of all shapes and sizes in all sectors as well as individuals, trusts and charities.

There are also particular sectors within which our understanding of potential complications and implications is particularly noteworthy, including Farming and Rural Industries, Charities and Social Enterprises, Healthcare, Education and Professional Services. Check out our website to see how we can help.

As a company and as individuals, the guiding principles that we champion and uphold above all others are expertise, commitment and value.

There is more common sense in this conversation than I've heard all year.

Services and Support

Every client is different, so the list of services and range of support we provide is always different too. You get to pick and choose where and when we help out.

- Management information including data management, reports, reviews and training
- Raising finance via grants, funding, venture capital and angel investment
- Accounting software, training and IT support
- Payroll, book keeping, outsourcing, asset and vendor financing
- Audit and assurance reports
- Personal financial planning, income tax and advice,
- Trusts, estate planning, powers of attorney, executorship

Dedicated to You

Whilst any accountant will fulfil the obligations set out by HMRC and Companies House, there is much more to the strategic support which Burton Sweet's team is able to offer.

For Companies, Owner-managed Businesses and Charities

Whether your immediate aspirations are ambitious, belt-tightening or pretty much the same as last year, you get a hand-picked team plus expert advice from a dedicated partner or manager.

For Start-ups

Letting us help at the outset makes all the difference in creating the success you set out to achieve. Whatever your size, our attention to detail delivers both quick wins and meaningful insight.

For Private Individuals

Committed attention and support from highly qualified tax advisers, trained to keep you abreast of changes in legislation and make you aware of opportunities that protect assets and deliver security.
